PRAXIS

Church Announcement Talking Points

- We are hosting The Praxis Course (when/where/format)
- Praxis is a community of entrepreneurs and innovators working at the intersection of theology and culture
- The Course centers around discerning vocation and calling, ultimately how we see our work as a part of God's renewal of all things
- Designed for anyone who longs to put their faith in action (Praxis means faith in action)
- Six sessions, each with video teaching, real-life stories, and discussion
- You don't need particular background or experience to participate, open to all
- When/where and format for meeting

Church Bulletin Blurbs

The Praxis Course is a six-session journey helping us see our lives and work as part of God's redemptive story and equipping us to respond to the brokenness around us with creativity, sacrifice, and love. Join a group starting [DATE].

Starting [DATE], we're hosting The Praxis Course—a small-group experience exploring vocation, purpose, and how our work is part of God's renewal of all things.

The Course spans six sessions and features theological teachings from Andy Crouch and the Praxis community around why and how we work, real-world stories from redemptive culture makers, and guided discussions to spur us into redemptive action.
